ALEPPO TEMPLE

Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine

Illustrious Nobles:

THE OASIS OF ALEPPO (Mechanics Building) has been taken by the Government for the duration of the war, and seven hundred students in khaki are quartered there.

This will cause some inconvenience to us, but I feel that every Noble of Aleppo would gladly sacrifice some of his pleasures if he thought that by so doing he would save the life of one of "our boys" over there.

We have, through the efforts of Nobles Smith and Finestone—the Shubert Twins—secured the Boston Opera House, Huntington Avenue, for our next meeting, and the date set is Monday, November 18th.

Kindly remember that the war has changed conditions. Your Steward and Director and their assistants will do all they can for your comfort and pleasure with the limited conveniences of the Opera House.

Bro. Hoover and space will not allow us to have the traditional banquet, but we can have a sandwich, a cup of coffee and slight refreshments, and while you are denying yourself remember that when we have won this war we will have a meeting that will be a celebration of that event and the happy return of the boys to their homes and our return to our old home in Grand Hall.

In order that this meeting may be a success we must have candidates—and when you propose a member to this great body of the best fellows on earth you are helping our Government, as they are now collecting a war tax of $5.00 on each one. Initiation fee $50.00—war tax $5.00, a total of $55.00 each; $27.50 for men in U. S. service, no dues during war service.

We have paid the Government over $2,300 taxes this year and we want to pay more, so get together and let us have a large class.

The frost is on the pumpkin,
And the corn is in the shock,
We have folded our mosquito nets,
Got our flannels out of "hock."
The air is crisp and bracing
And with glee our spirits swell,
For the novices are at our gates
And we're going to given them —
Well, Well, Well!

Yours for the glory of Aleppo,

Walter W. Morrison
